EIGHTEEN INCHES OF ORE IN DRIFT

McCrimmon and Stewart Have Opened Fine Shoot of Galena on Canadian King Claim

Rod McCrimmon was in town last Tuesday on business. He reported to the Herald that he and his partner were working in a fine shoot of ore. They drifted from the bottom of the shaft on the Canadian King claim and within three feet of the shaft they ran into eighteen inches of clean high grade ore and it is still with them and looking better with every round of holes they make. The shaft was about the first work done on the property when it was staked, but the ore did not show up as anticipated and it was abandoned. The recent work has proved that the shaft had been sunk on the tail end of the ore body.

McCrimmon and Stewart are putting in long hours and working hard, but Rod says they are being well repaid, and he hopes that in a very short time they will be able to put on some men to help them. They have several tons of ore now sacked, or ready to be sacked, and this fall they will have a carload for shipment. The prospects are bright for several cars from this property before the spring break-up.

RAILWAY OFFICERS ON PLEASURE TRIP

Vice-President Pennsylvania Railway Saw Northern British Columbia Along G. T. P.

A special train from Winnipeg went through to Prince Rupert last week returning on Sunday. On board were Morley Donaldson, general manager of the G. T. P. with his private car, Vice-President Rogers, of the Pennsylvania railway in his private car. Mr. Rogers was accompanied by his family and by Mr. Albright, head of the Ontario Niagara Power Co., of Buffalo.

This was the first time that a private car from another line had made the trip over the western section of the road. The party was on a pleasure trip and they were delighted with the beauty of the country through which they passed. Mr. Rogers expressed the belief that the G. T. P. would be a great tourist route as well as an important commercial highway.

Mr. Donaldson stated that the date for driving the golden spike would not be announced until his return. In the meantime every effort was being made to complete the first lift of ballast and he was in hopes that it would be on in a couple of weeks. The permanent twelve stall round house is to be built in Prince Rupert at once. It will be constructed of brick and will be located near the dry dock.

MANY MEMBERS IN THIS DISTRICT

Are Boosting Prince Rupert's Fall Fair New Building Now Under Construction—More Prizes

A large number of the farmers and business people of the Bulkley valley have become members of the Prince Rupert Agricultural Association. The secretary found everyone, or nearly so, enthusiastic boosters for the big northern fair which will be held this year the last two days of September. In a few days the secretary, L. Bullock-Webster, will make a special visit to New Hazelton and surrounding district to study the local situation. Last year this district took so many prizes and made such a favorable impression upon the people on the coast that the fair people are looking for a much larger exhibit this fall, and also for a larger crowd of visitors during the fair days. The prize list has been made attractive, and this year there will be a large new building for the accommodation of the exhibits. The fair will be well worth taking in.

PALACIAL HOTEL PRINCE RUPERT OPENS ITS DOORS

Everything Modern, and the Comfort and Safety of Guests First and Principal Object of the Builders

Prince Rupert now boasts of its first really modern and up-to-date hotel, the "Prince Rupert," which has recently opened its doors to the public. Situated at the corner of Second avenue and Sixth street, it is at once in the best part of the city and within a very few minutes' walk from the dock and railway. The handsome structure is of solid brick, five stories high, and so laid out as to be without a foot of waste space, and yet there is not one modern convenience missing. It is without doubt the finest hotel north of Vancouver and it fills a long felt want in the northern port. When it is completed, with all the newest of furniture and fittings provided, $185,000 will have been expended, but the building and its equipment are worth it to the proprietors and to the city of Prince Rupert and the whole North.

RUPERT'S FIRST MODERN HOTEL—THE "PRINCE RUPERT"

Among the leading stockholders in the company is J. C. K. Sealey, Hazelton, one of the best known hotel men in the interior, and also one of the pioneers of this district and of the Bulkley valley. Other officers of the company are: Pres., Geo. W. Morrow; Vice-Pres., H. B. Rochester; Sec.-Treas., K. Munro; Managers, Messrs. Moore and Rochester. F. W. will be chief clerk, and Mrs. Perkins is housekeeper. The architect was Mr. H. J. Randall, Prince Rupert, formerly of Vancouver. Since its opening the Hotel Prince Rupert has enjoyed a good share of the patronage and the people of the north will make, and are now making, it their headquarters when on the coast. They will also do a big tourist business.

START OPERATING AT SUNRISE MINE

D. McLeod Arranging to Put Several Men to Work at Once—Will Take Out Ore at Once

Work is to be started on the development of the Sunrise group on Nine Mile mountain within the next few days. As is well known in this district, the Sunrise lies very close to the Silver Cup and was staked by Hugh Harris about the same time. It was also purchased from him by practically the same syndicate which purchased the Silver Cup. Sunrise stock, however, has never been offered to the public and is still held intact by the syndicate. Considerable work has been done on it and a very fine shoot of ore has been opened up and several tons of ore are already sacked ready for shipment. This ore was taken out of a surface cut.

To many who have inspected the various properties on the top of Nine Mile the Sunrise appears to be the most promising. D. McLeod, one of the largest stockholders, has secured permission to undertake certain work and he is now making arrangements to put several men to work. It is expected that the Harris boys will have charge of the camp for him. They will take out considerable ore this summer and fall and have a good-sized shipment ready for the winter. This will put the mine in shape so that the company can proceed with operations either this winter or early next spring.

STORSTEAD MEN AWARDED BLAME

Decision of Commission Enquiry into the Great Marine Disaster and its awful Tragedy.

The board of investigation on the Empress of Ireland disaster has handed out its decision, the result being pretty much as anticipated from the relation given in the evidence taken. The report, written by Lord Mersey, the presiding arbitrator, places the blame for the collision where it belongs, on the Storstad, and states that the third officer, in charge at the time of the collision, did not call the captain, as he had been instructed and as he should have done. The report points out that by changing her course the Storstad invited the collision and its awful results. In no sense does the report find fault with the alleged dangers of the St. Lawrence route, but suggests changes in the pilotage system and strict adherence to the rules of the road. Among marine men there is a well-founded antipathy to colliers as a breed of vessel which insists on making a voyage even at the inconvenience of others and as one determined to hold way and let others look out for themselves. The enquiry brought out comments adverse to colliers as a class, the term "sea bugs" being applied as descriptive. The officers of the Storstad, so far as a matter of discipline, will be dealt with by the marine court of Sweden, the British authorities having no jurisdiction.

Open Copper Property

Louis Duncan has been in the district for some time working on his claims near the tram line on Rocher de Boule mountain. He is in with Mr. Walker and they are doing considerable work this season in the hopes that they can open up sufficient ore to encourage an operator to take the property over for development. They have a good vein with some fine looking ore and believe that it will be demonstrated this season that they are connected with the big veins on the Rocher de Boule mine.

Good Work on Tunnel

Work on the Rocher de Boule cross cut tunnel is making excellent headway and it is now in over 260 feet. Three shifts are being worked, which is a twenty-four hour a day operation. A total of fifty-four men are now employed at this mine.

Roy Clothier arrived from Prince Rupert on Monday night to join his brother, George, in the development of the Silver Cup mine, which property they have under lease.

POLITICIANS VISIT NEW HAZELTON

View High Level Bridge But Could Not Visit Old Town on Account of Mud on Hill to Depot

Last Saturday morning about eight o'clock a special train arrived in New Hazelton and remained here for an hour or a little better. The chief passengers on board were Hon. W. J. Bowser, attorney general, and W. R. Ross, minister of lands. With them, M. P. P., who went east the fore part of the week to meet them, was also on board. They were met here by G. O. Graham and S. D. Raymond, representing the local Conservative association, A. E. Player, representing the old town association, and a couple of government officials. It was intended that the party should drive over the high level bridge, on to the old town and then across the Bulkley river and up the heavy grade on the government road to the South Hazelton station, where the train was to pick them up. Unfortunately it had rained for a couple of days before the visitors arrived and it was next to impossible to make the grade up the long hill to South Hazelton without the passengers' walking, on account of the mud. The walk did not meet with the approval of the attorney general and he refused to go. It was then decided to drive over the high level bridge, which was built by the townsites owners, but which the government is taking over, and then back to New Hazelton, where the train was held waiting.

Two rigs were provided, and upon arrival at the bridge the visitors were loud in their praise of the beautiful scenery, and they all admitted that the bridge was one of the best in the province and that the site was an ideal one for crossing the Bulkley river. The local people were assured that the bridge would be taken over and that the road connecting it with the main government road and with the depot at New Hazelton would be constructed without any unnecessary delay.

There was no public meeting here, in fact very few people were around the depot or elsewhere to welcome the visitors. At other points along the route, however, meetings were held and Mr. Bowser informed the people that there would be no election in British Columbia until next year.

Big Raspberry Crop

The raspberry crop is now being gathered in by the people of the town. Last Sunday a few went out and got several pails full and since then a great many have been gathering this delicious fruit for canning for winter use. The crop this year is heavy and the rains of last week helped it wonderfully.

HAS A LOW GRADE COPPER PROPERTY

Local Men Developing What May Prove To Be One of the Biggest Propositions in the District

Joe Schwarzer was in town over the week end. He has been working all summer on the Glengarry group on Rocher de Boule mountain. This property adjoins New Hazelton townsite and the present tunnel they are driving is only a few feet from the townsite, but after ten or fifteen feet more tunnel has been driven the owners propose coming right back to the townsite and starting another tunnel. The boys have what they believe is an immense low grade property. Their tunnel is on the hanging wall and they believe their vein to be about three hundred feet wide. They have lots of ground.

During the present summer they anticipate getting sufficient work done to demonstrate that the Glengarry group is worthy the attention of a big mining corporation. Should their expectations be realized, the Glengarry group would work wonders for New Hazelton as a mining center and business center.

TRAIL TO WONDER GROUP

Government Road Gang Started Work—Will Complete Next Year

Last Saturday a road gang was sent out by the government road superintendent with a team of horses to start work on the new trail over Rocher de Boule mountain via Mud creek. The first property this trail will benefit is the Rocher de Boule Wonder, which is being operated by O. B. Wallace. The work will be started where the trail ended last year and continued towards the Wonder property, which is, by the way, in direct line for the proposed trail over the hill to connect this town with the Rocher de Boule, the Great Ohio, the Highland Boy and other mining properties. As the money is short this year the work will hardly be finished until next year.

Was Lost Four Days

It was reported to the police last week that Gus Peterson, a rancher in the Kispic, had disappeared. He left the old town to hunt horses. On July 5th about two a.m. he started for town again. When he got to Poplar Park bridge he got it in his head that someone was chasing him. He took to the woods and does not remember anything more until he woke up in his bed at home on the morning of July 9th. A neighbor informed him that the police were out looking for him so he went to meet them at Hugh Taylor's place. Thus the mystery was cleared up.

SMITHERS PLAYED VERY POOR BALL

Lost Both Games by Big Scores to New Hazelton—Many Errors Mar the Games

Smithers ball team came down Sunday morning and played league games that afternoon and on Monday with the New Hazelton boys. The visitors put up a miserable exhibition. From the grandstand it looked as if they had springs in their mits and grease on their fingers. At the bat they showed about the same class, Muldoon being the only one with an eye.

In each game Smithers only scored a single run and they were due to carelessness and very bad plays. New Hazelton scored fourteen the first day, and sixteen the second. At that the errors were not all on the one side. The local boys did some things which would, in a close contest, have lost the cup for them.

From a spectator's standpoint the games were too one-sided to be exciting although the work of some of the local players was well worth watching.

New Hazelton is scheduled to play in Prince Rupert the last two days in the month. The boys will have to get in a lot of hard work if they want to clean up the coast team. A much higher class of ball is being played there than when the old town went down.

The old town has been getting some more players in recently and the next game with New Hazelton for the McClary Cup should be more interesting than the last exhibition.

Hazelton plays at Smithers Sunday and Monday.

Summary of Geological Report on Section Between Prince Rupert and Telkwa, B.C.

By R. G. McCONNELL. - CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK

THE VALLEY OF THE SKEENA, where it cuts the Coast range, is a deep, steep-sided trough, precisely similar to the ford-like depressions filled with salt water so prevalent along the coast. It has, however, been gradually silted up by the river down to about mile-post 40, and is bottomed with alluvial flats and islands. Above the mouth of the Kitsumgallum its character changes. The valley above this at the end of the Glacial period was floored for some distance by estuarine, and farther up by glacial deposits, and in place of depositing its load the river is scouring out, and along most of its course is sunk in a secondary valley. The secondary valley is mostly in drift, but along considerable stretches it cuts through these loose deposits down into the bed-rock beneath, and contracts into a canyon. The rock-walled portions are due, in part at least, to deviations of the stream from the lowest portions of its pre-Glacial channel. Some of them may owe their origin to small post-Glacial uplifts.

The Skeena valley, east of the semi-crystalline rocks which border the Coast range batholith on that side, enters a more easily eroded region, where it gradually expands in width, and the bordering slopes become much less regular.

The Bulkley river, which is followed after leaving the Skeena, is a wild, unnavigable stream, plunging over rapids or crowding through canyons along its whole course. The enclosing valley is very large, its width ranging from 4 to nearly 10 miles. It is bordered on the southwest, from the Skeena to Morricetown, by the high rugged Rocher de Boule mountains, and from Morricetown to the Telkwa by the almost equally rough Hudson Bay mountains. On the northeast the bounding elevations are low and more even, seldom breaking into prominent peaks.

The valley is heavily drift covered, and a cross section usually shows a central terraced portion, bordered by uneven slopes, leading up to the bounding ridges and mountains. The river is sunk in a secondary, and for long reaches, rock-walled valley from Hazelton to Telkwa.

The grade of the Skeena from Essington, where the current practically ceases, to Hazelton, a distance of 154 miles, averages 4.2 feet per mile, and that of the Bulkley from Hazelton to Telkwa, a distance of 53 miles, 17.1 feet per mile. The elevation at Telkwa is 1,650 feet above sea.

The Natural Resources

The principal natural resources of the district consist, on the coast, of fisheries and the product of the forest, and in the interior of agriculture and mining.

The Skeena is a noted salmon river, and the fishing industry has been established on a firm basis for some years, and is still growing. The product of the numerous salmon canning establishments, located on islands off the mouth of the Skeena, and along the mainland, is very large, in favorable seasons exceeding 200,000 cases. Other fishes of commercial importance are the cod, herring, pollock, and, farther away, near the Queen Charlotte islands, the halibut.

The Coast district is forested, practically everywhere, up to a height of about 4,000 feet above sea-level. The principal forest trees along the lower part of the Skeena are the hemlock, the Sitka spruce, specimens of which frequently attain diameters of from 6 to 8 feet, and the white fir. The cottonwood is well represented along the lower flats. Less common trees are the valuable yellow cedar and the red cedar.

The area of land available for agriculture is very limited near the coast, but the country east of the Coast range, although generally rough and mountainous, contains a number of large areas suitable for this and kindred purposes. Among the most important of these are: the wide longitudinal depressions which follow the Kitsumgallum and Kitwano rivers from the Skeena north to the Nass, the benches along the upper Skeena, and the great terraced valley of the Bulkley. Production as yet is small because settlement has barely commenced. It includes small fruits and apples in the valley of the Kitsumgallum, and roots and hardy cereals farther inland.

The mining industry is also in its initial and experimental stages, but promises a rapid development. The scope of the work did not include an examination of the numerous metalliferous discoveries in the neighborhood of Hazelton and at other points along the route, and the only economic work done consisted in the examination of a reported salt well near Kwinitsa, 44.9 miles east of Prince Rupert. The conditions found here proved interesting and somewhat peculiar. The mountains in the vicinity of Kwinitsa recede from the river, forming a basin about one mile wide and a mile and a half long, through which the Kwinitsa, a small stream, flows to join the Skeena. The basin has been filled up with sands, clays and gravels to a level about equal to that of the highest tides which affect the Skeena at this point. About half a mile north of the river, and near the granite rim of the basin, brackish surface water was discovered by Mr. D. C. Whiteford, and on digging down a strong brine was found. The surface is covered with 6 to 8 feet of silty clay, underlain by gravel. The brine occurs in the latter. Several test holes have been put down in the immediate vicinity of the original discovery, but no attempt has so far been made to ascertain the extent or thickness of the brine saturated gravels. A test of the brine at the Provincial Bureau of Mines, Victoria, gave the following results per imperial gallon:—Sodium chloride, 2823 grams; Mag. sulphate, 709 grams; Calcium chloride, 157 grams, making a total of 3689 grams, as the brine showed no potash or silica.

This does not indicate much concentration, as in Vol. 1 (Physics and Chemistry), page 41, of the records of the Challenger Expedition, the total solids in sea water is given at 34,797 parts per thousand, equivalent to 2435.74 grams per gallon. Only the surface of the gravels, here underlying silts soaked with fresh water, has been tapped, and there is a possibility that denser solutions may be found at (Continued on following page) greater depth. A small experimental evaporating plant consisting mainly of two galvanized iron pans in which the brine is heated, has been put up and some salt produced. Mr. Whiteford, the owner, claims a yield of one pound of salt per gallon of brine, and is confident the brine can be reduced at a profit. There is a large demand for coarse salt in the neighborhood in connection with the extensive fishing industry at the mouth of the Skeena.

Since this description was written a small bore-hole has been put down by Mr. Whiteford near the centre of the basin. This passed through a few feet of silt and gravel at the surface, then penetrated 200 feet of bluish clay stated to be fossiliferous. Below the clay a hard band made up partially or wholly of rock salt was encountered. Unfortunately the drill used reached its limit at this depth and neither the thickness nor purity of the saline bed was ascertained. Mr. Whiteford intends putting down a second larger bore-hole at once to test these points. It is probable now that the surface brine first discovered represents seepage upwards along the granite rim of the basin from the saline beds underlying the clay.

This geological report will be continued next week.

GREAT CROPS ON THE HARRIS FARM

Twenty Acres Under Cultivation and Everything Doing Well—Devoting Special Attention to Poultry and Dairy

Last week space was devoted to the hospital farm and to the experimental work being carried on there. Just across the road from the hospital farm is the Harris ranch, where the Harris boys have their home and put in their spare time when not at the mine or in the hills. This place is composed of twenty odd acres and was leased by them from Ed. E. Charleson a couple of years ago. Since then they have put a great deal of work on the place and made many improvements, until this year they are looking forward to the biggest crop that has ever been produced on the same number of acres in the northern interior.

The land is similar to that on the hospital farm, although there are one or two patches that are low-lying and of a black, rich-looking loam, but practically all the farm is under cultivation. They have oats and peas, barley and peas, and timothy for feed, and it is all doing well. It has got a good start and there is practically no danger of anything happening to it now. They are looking for a crop sufficient to keep all their stock, both for the farm and for the mine, and probably have some to spare, which they will use by increasing their live stock.

Other parts of the farm are devoted to roots and vegetables, which are doing even better than they looked for.

Their garden patch is also a treat to go through. Everything is grown there from sugar beets, celery, tomatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, etc., to the finest currants and small fruits.

The Harris boys are enthusiastic over the agricultural possibilities of the district, but they intend to devote more attention to the poultry and dairying end of the farm, a good start in which is being made this year.

The boys have their father and mother with them, and they have taken charge of the farm and are playing no small part in making it a big success.

A. Scoley, express agent on the run between Prince Rupert and Smithers, has been promoted to the position of route agent from Rupert to Port George and thence over the P. G. E. to Vancouver. His new duties will begin as soon as the service is extended.

OVERHEARD AROUND NEW HAZELTON

D. McLeod spent a couple of days in the Bulkley Valley this week.

W. S. Haskins make a trip to Lorne creek the first of this week to look over some mining properties.

L. J. Conkey returned last Saturday night after spending several weeks with his family in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Stewart will make their home in Vancouver, leaving Prince Rupert the end of the month.

A. M. Ruddy gave a most enjoyable dance in the Galena Club on Tuesday evening in honor of his sister who has been visiting him for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Anger entertained Monday night at progressive bridge in honor of Mrs. Sawle who is leaving on a trip to the east. The prizes were won by Mrs. L. B. Warner and Neil McIver.

Geo. Clothier came down from the Silver Gup Sunday morning and reports progress very favorable at the mine. He went to Prince Rupert the first of the week on a short business trip.

The tenders for New Hazelton's post office building have all been sent to Ottawa and the various contractors expect to hear about the 25th of July as to who was the fortunate bidder. The work will be proceeded with immediately after the contract is let.

Arrangements have been made for holding the annual general picnic in the recreation park at the hospital on Friday, July 24th. More definite announcement will be made later. In the meantime it is requested that everybody in the two towns and neighbourhood will make no engagement to conflict with that date.

B. C. Affleck, of Green Bros., Burden & Co., returned Sunday morning after completing the survey of the townsite of Endako. He states that the railway company will have very good ground there for their divisional point and yards. In his opinion they will be quite the best the company has selected west of Fort George.

C. H. and Mrs. Sawle left yesterday morning for a two months' trip to their old homes in Ontario. During the absence of the editor of the Herald, Mr. F. H. Dobbin, of Peterboro, Ont., will be in charge of the paper and business. Mr. Dobbin is one of the best known newspaper men in Ontario, and for over thirty years was manager and publisher of the Daily Review of Peterborough and has only recently been released from active duties on that paper. The public of New Hazelton and surrounding districts requested to lend Mr. Dobbin the same assistance in gathering together the news as has been given in the past.

LOTS OF WORK FOR ALL

No Excuse Other Than Laziness for Being Without Work Here

In many parts of the province people have been endeavoring to solve the unemployed problem. The New Hazelton district is particularly fortunate in this respect as the unemployed are almost nil, and if those out of a job would go to work everyone would be happy and prosperous. This country is rich and no man has any excuse, except that of downright laziness, to be out of work. Men are being brought in from the outside to fill permanent jobs, and if there are people in town out of work it is because they won't work. Such people are a detriment to any community and should not be allowed to remain. But chasing such people out is too good for them. Some other means of dealing with them should be devised whereby they would realize that if the world owes them a living they owe the world a little service in return.

Opening at Vanderhoof

J. R. P. Crispo, formerly manager of the Vancouver Heights branch of the Union Bank of Canada, passed through town Saturday night on his way to Vanderhoof, where he will open a new branch of the bank. Mr. Gale, Telkwa, will be with him as accountant-teller.

Those who have been growing strawberries along the Skeena river reaped a great harvest this year. The berries were of good size and excellent flavor and the demand was equal to, if not greater than the supply. The Skeena valley berries are meeting with favor wherever they can be secured and the future of the fruit is most promising.

New Hazelton has agricultural lands that surpass those of almost any other section in richness. New Hazelton is at the junction of two fertile valleys that contain more than a million acres of productive lands. New Hazelton has all that has made other great cities in Canada, and more.
